Second Sunday of Lent

In the first reading from Genesis God makes a covenant with Abram and promises to Abram that his descendents will be as numerous as the stars in the sky. God promises generously to Abram all this and the only appropriate response from Abram is his faith... do we recognize the Father's generosity for us? Do we live a life of faith?

Jesus' trip up the mountain to pray with Peter, John, and James takes a rather unexpected turn. The apostles witness Jesus' transfiguration into his full glory, which will not be fulfilled until His death on the cross and resurrection from the tomb. What is interesting about the transfiguration is that Moses and Elijah are there with him and sharing in his glory. On one level of understanding, Moses represents the law and Ten Commandments; also, Elijah represents the prophets of the Old Testament. Jesus is the fulfillment and completion of the law and the prophets.

In addition to this, a covenant is being formed between the Father and the Son, Jesus. The Father asserts his authority like He did with Abram and States, "this is my chosen Son; listen to him." The Covenant the Father makes with his son is that all who have faith in Jesus and listen to him are able to join in Jesus' death.

You see, Moses and Elijah, who have died in history, are conversing with Jesus about his sacrifice on the cross and glories of the resurrection are shown to these three apostles in Jesus and shared by Moses and Elijah. These great men of the Old Testament are enjoying the benefits of the New Testament, the New Covenant of eternal life.

The Father is speaking to us that we are to listen to His chosen Son by purging ourselves of the evils in our lives during this season of Lent and embark on living lives of faith. None of us are perfect, so we all have something to purge and much more to hear from Jesus. If we take serious the Father's advice for us that Jesus is the Son of God and listen to him, then we too will share the gift of the resurrection because we will be living in the Body of Christ which is forever.

Segundo Domingo de Cuaresma

En las primeras lecturas del libro del Genesis, Dios le hace una promesa a Abraham que sus descendientes serán tan numerosos como las estrellas del cielo. Dios le promete todo esto a Abraham generosamente y la respuesta apropiada de Abraham es su fe...sabemos reconocer la ¿generosidad de Dios nosotros? ¿Vivimos nosotros una vida de fe?

La jornada de Jesús a la montaña con Pedro, Juan, y James a orar, tiene un resultado inesperado. Los apóstoles son testigos de la transfiguración de Jesús a una grandeza total que no sería cumplida hasta su muerte en la cruz y su resurrección de la tumba. Lo interesante de la transfiguración es que Moisés y Elías están con el compartiendo esa grandeza. A un nivel de comprensión, Moisés representa la ley y los diez mandamientos; y Elías representa los profetas del antiguo testamento. Jesús es el cumplimiento de la ley y de los profetas.

A la vez, una promesa se forma entre Padre e Hijo, Jesús. El Padre acierta su autoridad como lo hizo con Abraham y dice, "Este es mi hijo escogido; escúchenlo." La promesa que Dios hace a Jesús es que todo aquel que tenga fe en el y lo escuche podrán unirse a la muerte de Jesús.

O sea, Moisés y Elías, quienes ya han muerto en la historia, están conversando con Jesús acerca de su sacrificio en la cruz, y las grandezas de la resurrección son mostradas a estos tres apóstoles en Jesús y son compartidas con Moisés y Elías. Estos hombres importantes del antiguo testamento están disfrutando de los beneficios del nuevo testamento, la promesa de la vida eterna.

El padre nos esta hablando que debemos de escuchar a su hijo escogido, purgándonos de lo malo en nuestras vidas durante este tiempo de cuaresma, y proponiéndonos a vivir una vida de fe. Ninguno de nosotros es perfecto, todos tenemos algo que purgar, y mucho que escuchar de Jesús. Si tomamos el consejo de nuestro Padre en serio, que Jesús es el hijo de Dios y lo escuchamos, entonces compartiremos el regalo de la resurrección porque estaremos viviendo en el cuerpo de Cristo que es para siempre.

AS MEMBERS OF CHRIST'S BODY, THE CHURCH, WE HAVE A SHARE IN HIS PROPHETIC, PRIESTLY & KINGLY MISSION. "SHARING IN HIS PROPHETIC MISSION, WE COME TO KNOW CHRIST AND MAKE HIM KNOWN."
